Dear Charlie and all at Penguins Against Cancer,

On behalf of Macmillan Cancer Support, I am delighted to extend our heartfelt thanks for your wonderfully generous donation of £5,000 towards our work, dedicated to the memory of Neil Robins. We will be pleased to direct your gift towards services providing care and support for people living with liver cancer or lymphoma.

We were touched to hear your story and we greatly appreciate the support of Dai Evans, Lee Tuxford, Immie Gush, Yasmin Robins, and all your members who come together to make a difference for people living with cancer.

With your help, Macmillan will invest in the services that people living with cancer need to help them cope - such as more specialist cancer nurses, who give people the expert, compassionate support they need throughout their cancer journey.

"Having my Macmillan cancer nurse's support made all the difference in helping to navigate through the labyrinth of dealing with cancer treatment. Till this day, I have her telephone number and email and she acts as my support system when I need to speak to my oncologist. Without her, my cancer treatment would have felt lonely, confusing and isolating and I'm grateful for her support every single day." Della, supported by a Macmillan nurse

We look forward to keeping you updated on our work over the coming months, but in the meantime, should you have any questions or wish to discuss Macmillan's work in more detail, please do not hesitate to contact me and I will be happy to help.

Thank you once again for your incredible support for people living with cancer.

With all best wishes,

Becca Compton
