To whom this may concern

On behalf of all those whose lives have been affected by prostate cancer, please pass on our thanks to the Penguins Against Cancer for their recent gift of £1,000, and for their previous and ongoing support.

This generous donation will help thousands of husbands, brothers, grandfathers, dads and uncles living longer and receiving better diagnosis, treatment, prevention and support for prostate cancer.

Hayley Yarnley's dad was diagnosed with terminal prostate cancer at age 59. Thanks to years of prostate cancer research, the expert advice from our Specialist Nurses and millions of pounds in donations from supporters like yourself, he could access the best treatments and support available to him. Thankfully, he survived long enough to see Hayley's two children born, before dying six years later, in December 2016.

"I'm grateful to the researchers and everyone who donates to Prostate Cancer UK. It means so much for daughters like me, who've been with their dads through this journey. It's a hard, old path. But to know that there are thousands of men – and thousands of families – who'll be directly affected by this research is an incredible feeling."

Hayley's dad knew that we wouldn't be able to help him in his lifetime, but he could also see our vision: a future where prostate cancer is a disease that his grandson will not fear. It is with thanks to the Penguins Against Cancer for getting us closer to that point and helping us in our mission to put a stop to the disease being a killer, without them, this would not have been possible.

Yours faithfully,
